RESEARCH TEAM

The author wishes to extend a special thanks to his former colleagues at the Center for Urban Studies. Kurt Metzger's collection, analysis, and interpretation of data were invaluable as were his guidance on available data sources and his drafts of the chapters on population and economic change. Jackie Cutsinger's tireless work in drafting and re-drafting the housing stock chapter are much appreciated, as are her many hours spent assembling data and assisting with other research tasks. Duff Mahan and Ruth Waite also contributed greatly to the research effort. Doug Towns's GIS expertise was critical to our analysis and mapping of much of the data presented in the report. Charo Hulleza proved adept at both shepherding the project through personnel changes and providing words of encouragement at critical points. Finally, Amanda Fales and Craig Donahue provided timely and expert assistance in preparing the final report for presentation.
