Michigan has over 11,000 inland lakes which are essential habitat for fish and wildlife. This workshop is designed to educate interested lakefront property owners on natural erosion control methods, and will discuss techniques for using natural materials and native vegetation along the shoreline to provide erosion control and habitat value while maintaining the aesthetic value of the lakefront.

Workshop Topics:

- Healthy Lake Ecosystems
- Designing Natural Landscapes on Lake Shorelines
- Bio-engineering techniques to address high impact shorelines
- Using Native Plants in Shoreline Landscapes
- Attracting Fish and Wildlife to your Shoreline
- State of Michigan Rules and Regulations
- Local examples of natural shoreline projects

To Register, complete the form on the back.
Deadline is March 9, 2012
