Ron Campbell is a Principal Planner and Preservation Architect with Oakland County Planning and Economic Development. He provides preservation assistances to all of Oakland's communities and technical/design assistances for the Main Street Oakland County Program.

Ron received his Bachelor's of Science in Architecture and Masters of Architecture with distinction from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. He has more than thirty years experience as an architect and preservationist. Prior to joining Oakland County, he was a principal-owner of a successful Midwest architectural-engineering firm and a private consultant to many Michigan communities and design firms. He teaches architecture and preservation classes at area colleges and recently completed a preservation training program for the Detroit Public Schools and the Michigan Historic Preservation Network at Historic Fort Wayne. He continues research for a publication on Michigan train depots. He serves on the American Institute of Architects/Michigan Board of Directors and is currently the Vice President/President Elect 08/09.
