Marathon gas station owner Rami Haidar said a man with a black revolver entered his station near Auburn and Dequindre roads just after 11 a.m.

Haidar said his wife and a cashier were the only two working at the time and that the man came in and at first acted like he had forgotten his wallet and walked out. But the man returned, pointed a gun at the women and ordered the cashier to hand over all the money and for his wife to get down on the floor, Haidar said.

"He told them, 'I'm coming back, don't get up,'" Haidar said.

The station is equipped with security cameras and the whole incident was caught on tape.

The robber is described as a black man in his 30s, 6 feet with a medium build. He was last seen wearing a black baseball cap with a "P" on the bill, sunglasses, a bright orange shirt, black jean shorts and black tennis shoes with white laces.

Oakland County Undersheriff Mike McCabe said a witness said he saw the man leave the station in a dark colored, late 1980s Cadillac Eldorado or Deville. McCabe said the robber parked right outside the front of the station.

Haidar said he recently sold four gas stations he owned in Detroit to move to the suburbs. He opened the Rochester Hills station four months ago. Haidar said he has changed the angles of the security cameras in preparation of any future robberies.

There is a $1,000 reward being offered in the robbery. Anonymous tips can be left with Crime Stoppers at 800-SPEAK-UP.
