HOLLY, Michigan -- Emergency crews were at Bush Lake this morning continuing their search for a man believed to have drowned Thursday night.

Police said a 35-year-old Flint-area man fell out of a small fishing boat at about 7:35 p.m. while attempting to pull up the anchor near a public boat launch.

His friend, a 39-year-old man, also fell in the water but was able to make it to shore.

Police said the victim called to his friend for help because he could not swim. Neither man was wearing a life jacket.

Members of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Marine Division searched the lake Thursday night and this morning.
