OAKLAND COUNTY, Michigan -- A Fenton woman, 66, was struck by a pick-up truck and killed Thursday afternoon as she was walking across a street in Oakland County's Highland Township.

Genopal English was pronounced dead at the scene at about 2 p.m., according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

English was attempting to cross Duck Lake Road, south of Lewellen Drive, when she was struck by a northbound 2004 Chevrolet Silverado driven by a 46-year-old Highland Township resident.

The driver was taken to Huron Valley Hospital for treatment. The crash is under investigation.
