Why Oakland County?

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (MDNR) was tasked many years ago with developing an opportunity for legal, public off-road vehicle (ORV) recreation in southeastern Michigan. Oakland County has the highest percent of licensed ORVs in the state, and residents purchase the highest percent of MDNR ORV stickers, yet there are no legal riding areas in the county. A county-operated ORV park will encourage safe, legal riding and keep people from illegal riding on utility corridors, railways, and private land.

Oakland County also has several depleted sand and gravel mines that are unlikely to be redeveloped for residential or commercial use because of topography and noise created by I-75. The ORV Park site is a perfect complement to both the adjacent freeway and Dixie Highway, as well as the large swaths of nearby state land that are reserved for hunting, fishing, camping and non-motorized use.

How much money is Oakland County investing in this new park?

The Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund provided all the funding to acquire the 235 acres (nearly $2 million). The State of Michigan has granted, via the ORV Trail Improvement Fund, $185,000 in 2019 to the design and development of the park, and $262,000 in 2020 for development. The park will be operated by Oakland County Parks and Recreation (OCPR).

The goal of the park, within the first few years, is to be self-sustaining. The DNR and Oakland County Parks and Recreation will share in any net revenue loss at the park. Any revenues over expense at the park will be held in a restricted account and re-invested back into the park. Therefore, after the first few years of operation, there is no anticipated expenditure of OCPR millage or other dollars to fund the operation of the park.

How does this park benefit Oakland County residents?

ORV enjoyment is not limited to one's residence, profession, income bracket, gender or ethnicity. Like state and federal lands, this ORV park is located where the landscape is most conducive to the recreational experience. The site is less than a 40-minute drive for most residents in Oakland County (and less than 90 minutes from most large urban centers in Southeast Michigan). This ORV park will be the closest public riding opportunity for all county residents.

While ORV recreation doesn't appeal to everyone, the same could be said of many of the recreational activities promoted by OCPR including waterparks, horseback riding, nature centers, and golf. There are many forms of ORV recreation. This park is being designed to accommodate all ORV types and several businesses are in the process of evaluating opportunities for ORV rentals and tours to provide recreational experiences to those who may be interested in ORV but unable to, or uninterested in, making the investment in purchasing a vehicle.

Why is off-road vehicle recreation a priority for Oakland County Parks and Recreation? How are ORVs associated with health and wellness?

Michigan has had a long history of using motorized vehicles to enjoy its public lands and waters. Vehicles, ranging from pontoons to campers, have been used by residents of all ages and abilities to spend time out-of-doors, visit with family and friends, meet new and different people, and re-create themselves by escaping from the routine of work and our urban/suburban lives. For some, the feel of scaling a ridgeline from the seat of a Jeep is no less a matter of their health and wellness than a night spent in a cabin or relaxing in a tube on a river.

WHO Can use the park?

Tickets may be purchased by those 18 and older. Children 12 and older with an ORV safety certificate issued by the state of Michigan (or another state) may operate an ATV or motorcycle at the park with direct supervision. Children ages 16-17 with a valid drivers license may operate full-size/street-legal vehicles within the park under adult (18+) supervision.

HOW much does it cost to use the park?

The park will charge a $15 per vehicle entrance fee. This fee will be transferrable between vehicles for those bringing out a few bikes or ATVs to use at the park, so long as only one is in the park at a time. Vehicles will also be required to have DNR ORV ($26.25) and ORV Trail ($10) stickers on their vehicles. Purchase of these stickers supports the DNR's ORV Trail Improvement grant program, for which Holly Oaks ORV Park is eligible to apply for future development funding.

A DNR Recreation Passport and OCPR Vehicle Permit will NOT be required.
