Serves as Lecturer for
“The Devil We Know” Film Discussion
Tuesday, January 29, 2019 at 7 p.m.

(Waterford, Michigan) — On Tuesday, January 29, 2019, Oakland County Water Resources Commissioner Jim Nash will participate as a guest lecturer for the Green Film series featuring “The Devil We Know” film. He will speak about the issue of PFOS following the showing and lead the public discussion. The film will be shown at 7 p.m. at the Congregational Church of Birmingham, UCC, located at 1000 Cranbrook Road in Bloomfield Hills, Michigan.

Commissioner Nash states, “It is great to see local community groups put on events like this to inform the public about important environmental issues. I’m happy to be a part of this and I am looking forward to an interesting discussion.”

As more becomes known about, the man-made perfluoroalkyl and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS), such as perfluorooctanoic acid (PFOA) and perfluorooctanesulfonic acid (PFOS). PFAS, PFOA, and PFOS are part of a group of chemicals that have been used in manufacturing, firefighting, household products and many consumer products since the 1900s. For more information relating to PFOS and PFAS, go to www.oakgov.com/water for a list of resources.

There is limited seating for this free event. For more information, call Green Ministry-Congregational Church of Birmingham, UCC at 248-514-8746.
